General advice

- In addition to covering the content outlined in the advance information, students and teachers should consider how to:
 - manage their revision of parts of the specification that may be assessed in areas not covered by the advance information.
 - manage their revision of other parts of the specification that may provide knowledge which helps with understanding the areas being tested in 2022.
- For specifications with synoptic assessments, topics not explicitly given in the advance information may appear, e.g. where students are asked to bring together knowledge, skills and understanding from across the specification.
- For specifications with optional papers/topics/content, students should only refer to the advance information for their intended option.
- For specifications with NEA, advance information does not cover any NEA components.

Advance Information

Subject specific section

- In Paper 1 Section A, students are given a choice of two questions. Each question names a poem from the anthology and asks students to compare it to another poem (of their choice) from the anthology.
- The following reduced list of anthology poems includes the choice of two poems named in the May–June 2022 examination. This list of poems is suggested as a key area of focus for revision and final preparation, in relation to the May–June 2022 examination.
- Students may compare the named poem with one of their choice from the list below, or they may draw on any of the other prescribed poems from the anthology not listed below as their other poem.

Paper 1 Section A: Poetry
